

25 May 2004 - Udcast Powers Bentley Telecom's Satellite VPN Service

Udcast reported that Bentley Telecom is using the Udcast UDgateway-VPN to power Bentley's new satellite VPN service for sites throughout the Middle East and Europe.

Through the use of Udcast's UDgateway-VPN, Bentley Telecom is providing site-to-site VPNs for both satellite and hybrid (satellite plus terrestrial) connections with terrestrial like security and performances.

UK-based Bentley Telecom has a major presence throughout the Middle East delivering Internet connectivity solutions to a wide customer baseófrom Internet cafes in Baghdad to connecting remote sites for large corporations and international organizations.